Some Tuareg scrupulously practice fasting, and the different Moslem holidays are now followed punctually. But along with that they keep the ahal, monogamy, and matriarchy.

Pagan survivals. -- Ten centuries of Islamism have not completely rid the Tuareg of their former beliefs. They still believe in the existence of an animated world peopled by elements acting visibly or invisibly, living in minerals, vegetables, water, etc. To be sure, these beliefs are growing blurred, dwindling and losing their intensity, but the Tuareg still live with them, even going so far as to practice certain rites, just as in the country in France.

Their belief in supernatural matter is more than we could possibly imagine. They believe in genii (ahinnen or imdounen) who inhabit the mountains, springs, steep places, and some trees. They protect themselves from them by numerous talismans, which they beg from the marabouts, or by the practice of exorcizing. The women are even more credulous than the men on this point. They consult the dead by going to pray on their tombs and ask them news of those who are absent.

Petrographic cults are still very much alive among the Tuareg. They believe that some stones are haunted, and to gain the good will of the spirits they place votive offerings in the form of pebbles nearby. Therefore, at the crossing of some mountain passes and some unavoidable paths one often finds enormous piles of stones imitating tumuli, or else many little piles placed on both sides of some camel trails. Some ancient tombs are the object of a quite peculiar worship, for example the one discovered at Tazerouk a few /308/ years ago by Captain Niéger. This tomb, on which lay several stone statuettes, polished axes, and numerous Neolithic objects, was still visited in recent years until the time when it was excavated by the French. The Tuareg deny this, of course, but the discovery of objects placed there recently (fragments of cloth, beads, etc.) proves it. The stone statues represented the Tibaradines, that is, "the maidens." They were supposedly a highborn woman and her servant who were turned into stone because the mistress

I was told in the Ahaggar that youths may not say their 561 prayers in the presence of women for, in the course of genu- 562 flections and prostrations, they have to show their posteriors, 782 which is very "shocking"! On the other hand, old men can 834 pray before women without being indecent.

Many, besides, in order to say their prayers place them- 782 selves behind the imam (either an Arabian taleb or a Tuareg 788 who knows a little Arabic), and they make their genuflections, 793 saying, "Allahou akber" (God is the greatest) every time they hear it said by the imam. That is all of their prayer.

There were many who told me that they did not observe 785 the fast of Ramadan, among others Badjloud, the amr'ar of 771 the Kel Ahnet. On the other hand, the Issoqqamaren (fractions who have long been in contact with the Arabs and still are) are more religious, and they all observe the fast.

Among the Ahaggar Tuareg there are, nevertheless, some 792 truly religious men, but they are known and pointed out and pass for marabouts, for example, Moussa ag Amastane, Beketa ag Ibrahim, and the Oulad El Mir'da and Oulad Mokhammed ag Sadik.

Although the Tuareg is not religious, he nevertheless has great respect for the marabouts whom he naively admires, always on condition that these marabouts do not interfere with him. Thus the marabout Beketa ag Ibrahim stated that the dates coming from the Tidikelt, recently occupied by the French, were forbidden by the religion. He changed his mind later. But now, every time that he goes to ask an amr'id for dates, the latter comments that they came from the Tidikelt and are therefore forbidden by the religion, and Beketa answers,
"No. All that is over now," and accepts the dates.

Religious orders are quite widespread, especially among the Issoqqamaren. Going by caravan to the Tidikelt or the Touat, the Ahaggar have joined the order of the Tijaniyyah, which numbers most of its adherents among them, and that of the Qādiriyyah. Others (usually they all are those who have
